Kapitel 2: Decisions

Malverick's p.o.v. :

"The Don?" , I asked confused and stared at the letter. The Don was the leader of the Union. What did he want from me? I felt my mother's hand on my shoulder as she grabbed it a bit more.

"...I hoped it wouldn't have come to this..." , she mumbles quietly, before she hugged me tightly. "You don't have to go, if you don't want to..." I was too surprised to say anything. Too confused. I really couldn't believe it myself...

"It's okay Mom..." I replied to her and wraps my arms around her. "I will think about that. You don't have to worry about me..." Then I kissed shortly her cheek, showing her that everything will be alright, before I passed her to go upstairs into my room.

When I arrived in my room, I put my bag at my desk and laid down on the bed, staring at the ceiling. I barely knew what it meant to get an invitation from the Don. Of course, he's an important and strong person but what did he want from a normal guy like me? I sighed and closed my eyes, before I turned on my side and looked at my shelf. My eyes widened a bit and I slowly got up. Then I walked to the shelf and picked up the photo which was standing there. On the picture was my mother, carrying me in her arms, when I was a baby. Next to her stood a man, tall, somehow good-looking, with green eyes, holding my mother in his arms.

"Dad..." I whispered quietly and placed my fingers softly on the picture. Maybe this was my chance. A chance to learn where my place is in the world. I took a deep breath before I put back the picture and returned to my bed. But how should I explain this to my mother? what about school? I was in my last year at school, nearly at my final exams. So many questions ran through my mind. so many decisions that I had to make. With these thoughts, I slowly fell asleep, still not knowing what to do.

I woke up early in the morning again. But I didn't do any experiments this time. There was too much on my mind for that. So I went downstairs after I put on my clothes and found my mother in the living-room, the letter in front of her on the table. I took a deep breath before I faced her directly.

"Mom? I will go to Dahngrest and meet the Don." I said calmly, waiting for any reactions from her side. She stayed silent for a while, before she closed her eyes and stood up from the couch.

"I knew you would choose this path..." *she whispered quietly and took the letter. Then she walked to me and handed it over to me. "Just be careful... I love you..." She kissed my forehead softly. I was kinda surprised from this reaction but it was a relief that she wasn't hold me back in any way.

"Thanks Mom. I will take care of myself. Promise!" I replied and hugged her gently. "I guess, I will pack my things then." With these words, I walked back to my room, curious what will happen when I will meet the Don...
